WORLD BOOK DAY

Newsletter

Friday 7th March 2025

Hello Everyone,

What a lovely week we have had. Isn't it amazing how a bit of sunshine makes everybody feel better.

It has been lovely to see so many of you attending Parents' Evenings. I hope you found them useful.

Today has been our 'World Book Day' and the costumes have been amazing, thank you for all your efforts!

Looking forward to the rest of Term, we will be holding our 'Mothers' Day' lunches in the coming weeks, so keep an eye out for the letter and sign up on the applicable date.

Reception and Nursery will be holding 'Easter Bonnet' parades, so time to get crafty with your little ones!! There will also be an Easter Egg Hunt!

Funny of the Week

One of our younger pupils noted he had missed one sticker on his chart. When told it was because he needed to use kind words, he went to his friend, rubbed his back whilst saying, 'Kind words!' love it!!!!

Subject of the Week

I am going for P.E. this week. Last Friday, 'Wake Up Shake Up' started again, which was brilliant. But also there were 3 football matches and Athletics Competitions! A busy week, with a few victories along the way.

Friday 21st March

Wear something Red and Crazy Hair!!

All Donations Welcome

Attendance

Five classes had over 95% attendance last week. Moonlight managed 100% - awesome, well done kids! Sure there will be a 'Hot Chocolate' treat.

This term for our attendance reward, we will be looking at all those pupils who have 96% attendance or above, with no 'unauthorised' absences. This means, those who have been ill for no fault of their own, get the opportunity to go on the trip! I think the numbers will be pretty high!

News from a PHASE

This week in Sunshine, we have been exploring primary and secondary colours whilst looking at different artists, such as Jasper Johns. Moonlight have been learning about map reading and Shackleton's Antarctic adventure.

It has been wonderful for Miss Hendy and I to catch up with parents during consultations and discuss the children's hard work. Well done to both classes!
